TELSTAR TIGHTENS GRASP

ON M. V. C. #1 SPOT

MEET WINTHROP SATURDAY

Rick Wing racked up three touchdowns as the undefeated Telstar Rebels rolled to a 41-0 victory over winless Lisbon High on the winner's field last Saturday afternoon.

It was the seventh straight victory for the Mountain Valley Conference football leaders. Lisbon is now 0-5-2.

Jay and Winthrop are tied for the conference runner-up spot, each of them having five wins, a loss and a tie. Telstar travels to Winthrop Saturday afternoon for a 1:30 contest.

Levi Brown went two yards on a tackle slant early in the first period, and Glen Olson place-kicked an extra point to start the scoring.

Before the quarter ended, Wing kicked twice off the right side for 11 and 19 yards. Olson making good more conversion, to run it to 30 at the quarter's end.

Wayne Cummings gathered in a 34-yard touchdown pass from Wing at the second quarter, with Olson kicking successfully. Thus the Rebels reached the half time break 27-0.

Paul Farrar tallied on a 10-yard sweep in the third quarter, Cummings on a two-yard keeper right in the middle in the fourth, Olson kicked both points-after, concluding the scoring.

Telstar dominated the play all the way, with 275 yards rushing to 118 at Lisbon, and 15 first downs to them.

The scoring:

Telstar 20 7 7 7 —41

First — Brown, 2 yards rush. Point after, Olson, kick. Wing, 21 rush.

Second — Wing (pass from Cummings), 6 yards. Point after, Olson, kick. Third — Farrar 10 rush.

Fourth — Olson, kick. Fourth — Cummings, 2 yards. Point after, Olson, kick.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

The Bethel Historical Society will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 2, at 7:30 in the Casco Bank Community Room as usual.

The program committee plans to have a presentation on educational uses to which the Society Museum may devote time in the future. Also there will be more material available for study on Federal home furnishings.

The furnishings committee would much appreciate talking with anyone locally who might have chairs, chests, bed, tables, or kitchen utensils such as were in use in this area between 1800 and 1850, and would consider donations of such things for future use in the Dr. Mason House, if appropriate.

It would be appropriate if some things could be assembled which come from each of the early residents of Bethel. Family names were Adams, Annis, Andrews, Bean, Bartlett, Brown, Carter, Capen, Chapman, Clark, Coffin, Duston, Easton, Farwell, Fenn, Frost, Greenwood, Gage, Gould, Grover, Holt, Hastings, Howard, Kilgore, Kimball, Lane, Locke, Mason, Merrill, Powers, Russell, Robinson, Segar, Stearns, Swan, Twitcheil, Willis, Wheeler, and York, and the Society would be interested in hearing from descendants of any of these or any others who lived here in the early 1800's. It is thought that many of the then-leading families, have no descendants living in this area now.

Anyone interested in local history and its preservation is welcome to attend these meetings.

Philip Hall, Saco, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bangs and family.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Cellie Morgan, Corres. —
The light perfume of summer are gone because the heavy frosts of night have brought us blackened vines and flowers.

My chopstick is doing his last gathering, peaches stuffed, carrying from place to place his winter's harvest. He comes to my feeder time after time. For a long period he was puzzled and unable to get to it. Then one day he came to the window and leaped. He made it as he is always there as long as there are any seeds. In a short time he'll enter his home for hibernation in the quiet dark, light and enter a new life.

The birds of the green world has gathered until spring comes again. The camera catch my eye wherever I travel. They turn red as the berries turn to gold.

Get into stand in bayonetted ranks by the ponds and swamps.

From the many trails and mountain sides we have traveled these last two weeks we have been among families of rocks weathered and gray and patched with lichens, old roads, old farms, and vast areas of forest land. Everywhere there was a display of color to delight the eye.

On the back side of Young Hill and on Patch Mountain there were miles upon miles of true country with rough stones scattered from the fields probably on old iron drags and piled into the early New England functional fences.

Some days we could hear the birds in the whispering maples and hickory trees, and the restless leaves which are not yet ready to settle into their beds for the winter.

The mountains, especially on Patch Mountain, have been destroyed by vandalism which brings a wave of sadness to those of us who know them as they once stood.

Leaving the old country roads, traveled by those who have gone before, we went into the forests of trees where quiet and solitude were complementary to the scene. Sometimes we were on barren summits, gray and discolored with farmlands far in the distance. Nature here on top of the hill to understand. No matter how far we were we could always feel a warm glow beneath a blue sky with a house perched against the background of blue trees.

Effect on granite boulders, we ate our lunch while surveying the panorama of mountains and woodlands or we rested on our golden bordered gateway.

The beauty of nature we cross of sparkling streams with woodland about to be forested from the barren rocky hills. Looking their way to the broad valleys and count the trees beyond them the rocks were seen scattered reminding us of the old days when a place to have a picnic or a place to rest was a rare find. The water and the rocks were the only things that were left.

In the woods we have liked to see the old forest place. Indian Pond once Tenaya Lodge. Here the forested mountains are seen from the forested hills. The forested mountains are seen from the forested hills.

For when winter nights come cold and dreary and the stars seem low every night in the trees by the pond a light beautiful and warm and with children of nature the cold of winter is not so cold as it seems. We will be glad days to return here. We will be glad days to return here.

We will be glad days to return here. We will be glad days to return here. We will be glad days to return here.

We will be glad days to return here. We will be glad days to return here. We will be glad days to return here.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES

The individual classes at school are working hard to raise their funds. The most active class has been the Senior class. They have sponsored a dance, are selling Christmas kits, and are planning to sell ice cream. The Sophomore class held a record hop for the Junior High students last Friday night. From what I understand it was a success.

Last Thursday, the Telstar Student Council held the Regional Student Council Convention. The topic for discussion at this symposium was curriculum. Four speakers shared their thoughts with the gathered students. Two speakers spoke on free schools. Another speaker spoke on various successful programs which have been worked into school curriculums. The most interesting speaker was our own science teacher, James Fiske. He gave a very true account of Telstar's "flexible modular scheduling."

Telstar was the host to another event which happened only yesterday. Our National Honor Society conducted the Regional meeting of National Honor Societies. At this meeting a regional chairman was elected.

Recognition must be given to our x-country team for bringing home the MVC title Tuesday. Now it's on to the Regionals and hopefully to the state. Both the Field Hockey and the football team won their games last week.

The first Math League contest is Thursday, Oct. 25. We've been building our team for the past two years and since we took math bowl last year we are expecting to take

CO-OP EDUCATION PROGRAM AT TELSTAR R. H. S. HAS 37 PARTICIPANTS

Telstar's Co-operative Education Program is underway with a total of 37 students either employed at a work station or participating in a work station or participating in a Nurse Aide training program being offered by the Rumford Community Hospital for Telstar students.

Co-op is a cooperative venture between the school and employers to provide work experience for high school juniors and seniors, 16 years and older. The objectives of the program are: to provide work experience for students in an occupation that the student has some interest in pursuing as a career; to provide training in that occupation to make the student more employable.

On Sunday, Senior High people will meet at the Methodist Church at 1 p. m. for Community Outreach. Our evening meeting at 6:15 p. m. will be held in the Faculty Lounge at Grand Academy.

You are invited to "Good News For Modern Man," an exploration of the scriptures, to be held on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church dining room. Our first meeting (Nov. 1) will be devoted to an introduction to the Gospel of Matthew.

once they finish school; to allow students to explore a career to find out if it is a vocation they want to pursue for their livelihood; to teach students proper job attitudes, responsibility, etc., through their work experience and related course work. Once the student's vocational interest is determined, attempts are then made to place him or her at a work station that will meet the above objectives. The student receives graduation credit from the Co-op experience, allowing for a reduced course load in school, and making it possible for the student to work during normal school hours.

Students are paid by the employer for the hours worked and permission may be obtained to pay sub-minimum wages until the student becomes a productive employee. A waiver is also available to allow students between the ages of 16 and 18 years to work at hazardous occupations as long as they are in the Co-op program.

A special course is going to be offered in the school curriculum for Co-op students. Some of the topics to be covered will include: Job Safety, Social Security, Payroll and Tax Information, Insurance, Job Attitudes, plus other topics relevant to employment and consumer education.

The following students are currently participating in the Co-op program:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Oct. 24, 1972

To the Editor:

During the past few weeks, news relating to the proposed purchase of the former "pickle factory" at South Paris by a majority of the Board of Oxford County Commissioners has been a topic of discussion.

It is my understanding that two of the commissioners, with one dissenting, signed an agreement with the owners to purchase the property at an agreed price of $30,000.00. The binder fee of $3,000.00 was paid up on the signing of the agreement.

Where the money was to come from no one seems to know as there has never been an appropriation or a Capital Reserve Fund set up for such a purpose.

When this matter came to the attention of the Rumford Board of Selectmen it caused much concern as that town pays nearly 40% of the county tax and Rumford's share of the cost of this purchase would have been in excess of $10,000.00.

Immediately the Board instructed its attorney to proceed with the necessary legal action in an effort to stop the Commission from making the purchase in the name of the taxpayers of Oxford County.

A public hearing was held before a Superior Court Justice, briefs were filed by the attorney representing Rumford and the County Attorney representing the Commissioners. Finally the Court made its decision in favor of the Town of Rumford and the injunction was served preventing the Commissioners from purchasing the property. Much to the surprise of many and especially those who are acquainted with the fundamentals of municipal and county government, the two Commissioners have appealed their case to the Maine Supreme Court, thereby refusing to accept the decision of the Court—more legal costs for the taxpayer.

This is an example of how costly inexperience can be to the taxpayer. I do not question the commissioners' integrity. However, I do feel that even though they did not realize that they must have had either an appropriation or a previously established Capital Reserve Fund for this specific purpose in order

RULES SUGGESTED FOR "TRICK OR TREATERS"

Peter Malia of Cape Elizabeth, president of the Maine Safety Council requests that all Maine Halloween "trick or treaters" observe the following Safety Rules:

1. Young children should be accompanied by parents or other responsible adults on their "trick-or-treat" rounds.

2. "Trick-or-Treat" visits should be confined to the immediate neighborhood and limited to the residences of known neighbors.

3. "Trick-or-Treat" visits should be made during daylight hours, possible.

4. Householders should be encouraged to give and children to accept only wrapped or sealed candy or other treats.

5. Children should bring treats home for inspection before eating.

6. Residents who wish to welcome "trick-or-treaters" should light the porch or exterior lights as a sign of their hospitality.

7. Children should call only on homes with porch or other outdoor lights glowing.

8. Halloween masks should be worn. (Masks restrict vision. Colorful facial make-up may be used instead.)

9. Halloween costumes should light in color, short enough to prevent tripping, and non-flammable. For greater visibility in dark darkness, costumes may be decorated with reflective tape so that the "glow" in the beam of a car's headlights.

10. Follow the basic pedestrian safety rules developed by the National Safety Council:

—Cross only at corners, never between parked cars, never diagonally across an intersection.

—Look in all directions before crossing the street.

—Watch for and obey all traffic lights.

—Walk, never run across a street.

—Use sidewalks, not the street for walking.

—Wait on the curb, not in the street, until the street is clear.

11. Motorists should be warned to exercise extreme caution on "Trick or Treat" day and evening and on the alert for excited youngsters.

12. Children should carry flashlights if there is a possibility of being out after dark.

13. Pumpkins should be lit only by means of a flashlight or with a candle.

to acquire real estate in the town of the county, they could easily acquire a legal opinion before making this giant step. This argument on their part cost the town of Rumford a sizable amount for fees and may cost more if the town had not taken this action.

Every town in the county would not have to pay for the purchase of the "pickle factory" and the owners of the property would have lost a tenant.

Just why the purchase of property in question can be a NOT UNDERSTANDABLE decision commodities now distributed under the county plan are stored in suitable quarters and way at a cost of $30. per acre.

rental. This seems quite reasonable and the location is convenient to the purchase of the "pickle factory" and the owners of the property would have lost a tenant.

MT. ABRAM FISH & GAME MET AT LOCKE MILLS OCT. 19

The Mt. Abram Fish & Game Association met Oct. 19 at the Town Hall at Locke Mills. More than 30 members and friends enjoyed a delicious pot luck supper, followed by the business meeting. President Harold Bennett presided. There was discussion of the proposed "gun law."
Those who went to the State meeting at The Forks, reported a beautiful trip, a good dinner and a meaningful meeting.
After the meeting R. Stevens showed a film on different types of fishing in Maine.
Next meeting, bring something for the Thanksgiving basket.
They just returned from a trip to visit Mrs. Emmons son, Richard, in Derry, N. H.
Mrs. Geraldine Shimamura visited Mrs. John Mills and family Sunday afternoon.
Reminder: The Cole family descendants are asked to meet at the Sunday School room Sunday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. John Mills visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cobb Thursday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett and Leslie, Westbrook, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ring, and family of Freeport were recent visitors at the home of Daniel Cole.
Mrs. Arthur Doyle and children of Sabatius visited her mother, Mrs. Marion Tibbets, Sunday.
Mrs. Lillian Lapham had Sunday dinner and spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cross.
Several parents in town spent Wednesday at the Open House at Telstar.
I was very interested in the letters about the stray dog. Perhaps the biggest mistake the dog made was not to have gotten lost in Greenwood. I had a similar experience one Friday. After several futile attempts to find out who the dog belonged to, I called Raymond W. Seames, our very competent dog officer, and within two hours he had picked up the dog and before the weekend was over the dog was back home. This dog was fortunate to have an owner who saw to it he had a collar and license which speeded up the process, but any dog would have received the same care. We in Greenwood are fortunate to have such dedicated town officials who often do not get the recognition they deserve. -Lorraine Mills

Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres.
The Goodrum family butchered pigs during the week end.
Armand Bouffard resigned as building inspector and member of the planning board.
Several of the Charron family have been in town recently.
Mrs. Harrington of Bethel called on several people in town one day last week.
Two representatives of the Jehovah Witness sect went through town recently. Since they each took one side of the street it probably didn't take long to make the rounds.
The Mitchells and Griffins of Sebago Lake spent the week end at their camp.
The Alden Nelsons and friends were at their home here for several days.
Alan Murphy has had the pile of dirt removed so he can start building his garage.
Fred Judkins has had several answers to his advertisement for a housekeeper. One lady stayed for a few days but found the environment too quiet for her taste. Another stayed a few days, returned home to Farmington to settle some personal affairs, and plans to return.
Joe Bernier spent Sunday p. m. at his home here. Kathy Bernier spent the week end with relatives in Farmington and Newry.
Hoping for the best possible for the Dale Thurston family of Bethel in regards to their recent illnesses.
dog would have received the same care. We in Greenwood are fortunate to have such dedicated town officials who often do not get the recognition they deserve. -Lorraine Mills

THIS WEEK AT GOULD

Two old friends and a newcomer to the Gould campus this week: one of the country's top potters, a wilderness camping instructor from Boston University and the Headmaster of the Jugendorf Christopherson Schule in Elze, Germany.
For a full day, ceramics students at the Academy were able to work with Gerry Williams, a long-time New Hampshire craftsman and one described by one faculty member as "probably one of the ten best potters in the United States."
Williams is the developer of a unique "wet" firing process which reduces the normally lengthy production time involved in pot-making to less than an hour. Using Williams process, students first placed their newly made pots in the school kiln for a short initial "bisque" firing. On completion of this step, students were able to remove their pots, glaze them and place them back in the bottom of the kiln for a final firing.
It was Williams third visit to Gould, in almost as many years. But for Mike Geneid, an instructor in outdoor camping and survival from Boston University, visiting Gould was like stopping off to see a close relative.
Geneid, who helped design Gould's challenging ropes course - parts of which are visible below the football field to motorists on Church Street - spent an afternoon and evening with students enrolled in a special Environmental Survival Program (ESP), teaching techniques of kayaking and first aid.
A new face on campus, was that of Dr. Mertelsman, headmaster of the Jugendorf Christopherson Schule in Elze, Germany. For the past few years, Mertelsman has been sending students from his school to secondary institutions scattered all across the United States. One of his oldest programs has been run in cooperation with North Yarmouth Academy, which also participates in a teacher exchange program with the German school. But this was the Elze headmaster's first visit to this country.
While at Gould he will visit the several students sent for study in Bethel this fall. Mertelsman will also discuss future student exchanges and possibly a teacher exchange with Academy administrators.
What about the coming week? Here is a brief schedule of upcoming activities:
Oct. 27: Soccer, Winthrop High School, away, 3:30 p. m.
Oct. 28: Football, Dirigo High School, away, 1:30 p. m.; Soccer, Hinckley School, here, 1:30 p. m.; Cross Country, North Yarmouth Academy, away, 2 p. m.
Nov. 1: Soccer, North Yarmouth Academy, away, 2:30 p. m.; Varsity Field Hockey, Fryeburg Academy, here, 3 p. m.
Nov. 2: Varsity Field Hockey, Kents Hill School, away, 3 p. m.

ANDOVER-E. ANDOVER

Mrs. Violet Swain, Corres.
Several of the seniors will be calling soon at homes in the community taking orders from a kit for Christmas gifts. Proceeds will be for the senior class.

Seniors at Telstar working on the CO-OP Program are Tom Conrad and Beverly White, Nurses Aides at Community Hospital, Belinda Briggs, bookkeeper at Cozy Inn Nursing Home; Christene Frazier, secretary at Dr. Royal's office; Diane Meisner, office work at Andover Wood Products. A Junior, Lana Nevel, is also taking the Nurses Aid course. These young ladies are excused from classes two days each week.

Kenneth Feener was scheduled to undergo surgery at the Community Hospital on Oct. 24.

Girls Club Holds Halloween Party—Nine of the ten members of the Junior Girls Club with their leaders, Barbara Meisner, Norma Farrington and Diane Meisner, enjoyed a Halloween party at the schoolhouse on Oct. 23. Girls came in costume and prizes were awarded. Prettiest, Maryanne Heath; Funniest, Cathy Bailey; Most Unusual, Betty Summerton and treasurer, James Bodwell. At a recent meeting it was voted to build a skating rink with the help of the Andover Recreation Committee. The ground has been leveled in back of the present elementary school and a light pole set. Time schedules and more plans will be published at a later date. Anyone wishing to join may pay dues of fifty cents and participate in the winter activities.

Timmy Akers was honored on his ninth birthday by a party planned by his mother, Mrs. Leon Akers. The party included attending a football game on Oct. 21 at Telstar, and then he hiked a mile to Round Pond and back to the campground. Mr. Pratt the Forest Ranger told us different kinds of leaves.—Troop Scribe, Annemarie Saunders.

Calvary Congregational Church News—On Oct. 18 Choir rehearsal combined with the guests from the evening service surprised Miss Beverly White, the pianist (who was observing her 18th birthday) and the choir director, Mrs. Ralph Stinson, who was also observing her birthday. The special cake for Miss White was made and decorated by Norma Farrington. It was in the shape of a log with flowers and musical notes. Janice Wells decorated the other cake. Following the rehearsal the group went to the home of Vivian Barlow and sang several selections for her.

Rev. Lester Strout drove the church bus to Lewiston on Oct. 21 with a group of Senior Girl Club members with their leader, Janice Wells. They attended the Word of Life program. There are plans for another program in November and one in December.

The Andover Friday Club held their

October meeting on Oct. 20 with Dianne Cutting as hostess. Eleven met at the Elementary School where they heard Principal Robert Hamer, tell of the Continuous Progress Program taking place at the school. A tour was taken and a discussion followed on the ungraded school. The group later went to Mrs. Cutting's home where the regular meeting was held. It was voted to re-order the cookbooks for the third time. Voted to purchase two books, in memory of Susie Poor and Gertrude Poor, to be placed in the library. The members will be taking orders for place mats, napkins and cards before Christmas. The Nov. 10 meeting on "Care" will have Gertrude Percival as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hall and three sons, Bellingham, Mass., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester White, and other relatives over the week end.

Mrs. Rebecca Taylor and three children have moved to Mexico.

Pineland Ski and Outing Club—Regular meetings of the club have started with the following officers: president, Herman Sauter; vice president, Leon Dunn; secretary, Bertha Summerton and treasurer, James Bodwell. At a recent meeting it was voted to build a skating rink with the help of the Andover Recreation Committee. The ground has been leveled in back of the present elementary school and a light pole set. MAINE HUNTING SEASON OUTLOOK

Maine sportsmen have an improved deer situation this year, and the outlook for other game species is good, according to the Maine Fish and Game Department.

The big concern with sportsmen, of course, is on the condition of the state's deer herd which suffered through several bad winters resulting in an early closing of the 1971 season to protect the herd. Although deer are still not back up to normal levels in some sections of the state, the outlook is considerably brighter this year. Deer hunting should be satisfactory in most regions.

Deer hunting, already in progress, should be excellent this year, especially in the northern and western counties.

"Rabbit hunting" in Maine means partridge here, and, as usual, population variations result in a varied outlook; in general, it should be good to excellent.

Grouse hunting may be spotty this fall due to a rainy spring and early summer, but hunters with trained dogs should do well, especially in central and southern counties.

Field reports on woodcock are good. Spring census figures indicated a normal breeding population of hundreds, and the growing numbers of hunters interested in this secretive bird should have good results this fall.

Once again, the Department's game farm, with clubs and individuals co-operating, produced the annual goal of 30,000 pheasants. A few forges in the stocking policy should provide better hunting for these birds.

This year, there will be more emphasis on in-season stocking rather than releasing large numbers of the birds prior to opening day. Although there will be more careful control over where the birds are stocked and greater numbers will be liberated on Department-owned wildlife management areas.

The duck hunting situation is absolutely the same as it has been in recent years, with most species appearing in good numbers except the less hunter's favorites, the black duck, which is still in short supply.
The flyway Goose hunting should improve to improve.

BETHEL GIRL HELPS ORGANIZE YOUNG VOTERS AT UMF

Karen Brown of Bethel, co-chairman of the Young Republicans at the University of Maine at Farmington, was one of the organizers of a recent campus registration drive which added 110 new voters to the rolls.

Miss Brown, a sophomore at UMF, worked with her co-chairman, Annette Percival of Brewer, Helen Cole of Biddeford, president of the college Young Democrats, and Nycha Schlegel, student development specialist and drive coordinator.

Miss Brown, also a member of the Student Senate, worked with that organization as a third sponsor of the drive.

Organized primarily to assist those students who are temporary residents of Farmington to become eligible to vote in the November election, the campaign will enable the newly registered voters to obtain absentee ballots from their home towns.

COLE DESCENDANTS SET MEETING FOR OCT. 29 IN LOCKE MILLS

Mrs. Bessie Harvey, Corres.

A meeting for all Cole descendants has been set for 2 p. m., Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, at the Locke Mills Union Church Annex, Rt. 26, Locke Mills. The meeting is open to all Cole descendants and anyone interested.

In order to coordinate the efforts of those who are interested in Cole genealogy, the main purpose of the meeting is to organize the collection, preservation, and distribution of data about all Cole descendants and provide a central clearing house where a Cole descendant may obtain data about his ancestry.

The first Coles in America settled in Plymouth County, Mass., in the early 1600s. While many descendants have remained or returned to that general area, a number of descendants moved north, west and south with the settlement of new areas. While some moved to Rhode Island and New York, part of the family went to Oxford County, Maine, in the years immediately following the Revolutionary War. Later descendants followed the westward movement.

Today, the descendants are known to be numerous and widespread. Many are several generations removed from the Cole surname and may not even realize that they are Cole descendants. Some are now living in Alaska, Florida, and even London, England, where the original ancestors lived before coming to America.

The last known general Cole genealogy was published in 1908. However, it is now out-of-date and most incomplete on many lines, especially the families of those Coles who settled in Maine about 1800. Published data has nothing about a number of lines after 1850.

The mandatory recording of information about births, marriages, deaths, and burial locations has generally come only during the 20th century. A number of these vital records are incomplete or have been destroyed by fire. The only way to complete and bring these records up-to-date is through the cooperation of all members of the family. Today's descendant is tomorrow's ancestor and the information that those living today can provide will be very important to their descendants.

Those attending the meeting are asked to bring as much information as they can obtain about dates and

NEWRY

— Miss Amy E. Hanscom, Cor. —

The Selectmen met with the Road Commissioner Monday morning to discuss repairs to the bridges on the Branch Road and repairing the sand or the purchase of a new hydraulic sander for winter ice control. Two bridges need repair. The Branch Brook bridge, near the residence of Richard Bennett, and the bridge near the residence of Clifford Akers. It was decided to make temporary repairs to both bridges this fall. The Selectmen and Road Commissioner felt that the bridge near Mr. Bennett's should be re-planked next year, and that the other bridge should be rebuilt, with concrete abutments, steel girders and plank flooring. It was felt that a permanent flooring should be placed on both bridges in the future. It was voted to post all bridges on the road with a 5 ton limit. Since it was estimated that repairs to the present Highway Dept. sander would cost approximately one-third the price of a new hydraulic sander, it was decided to trade the present sander in on a new model.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haegle are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Monday at the Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

Mrs. Carrie York, Farmington, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pelletier, Windham, were at their trailer here Friday and Saturday.

Miss Pat Libby, Willimantic, Conn., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Tripp, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Bennett and family and Craig Hallbrook, Peru, N. Y., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings, Bethel, called on Amy and Roger Hanscom Saturday P. M. Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover and Eric, Buxton.

Miss Teresa Toti, Harrisville, R. I., and Miss Jennie Toti, Providence, R. I., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Seely.

George Learned and Cindy Learned went to Portsmouth, N. H., Sunday after Mrs. Louise Learned, who has been visiting relatives in Connecticut for the past two weeks.

Members of the Youth Group sang to Lewiston Saturday evening to hear speaker Jack Wrytzen were Sherry, Cindy and Vikki Learned and Stewart McInnis.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip O'Donnell and family, Scarborough, were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder.

Walter Eaman was a Friday supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Flanders.

Interested persons are asked to meet at the former Branch school house at 6:30 Friday evening for a work session. Much work needs to be done to make a clean warm chapel for the winter months. A fund-raising fund has been set up for the church, hopefully to be installed by another year. Donations are being accepted. Anyone wishing to help may contact Mrs. Freda Robertson, secretary, or Mrs. Sue Wight, treasurer.

EAST STONEHAM

— Gladys Kilgore, Corres. —

A beautiful little Pekinese dog appeared at the home of Mrs. Geneva Millett early Thursday morning, half starved, and frozen. As Geneva is a lover of animals like I am, she fed it and put it in a warm place. As its tags had been removed it could not be traced. So it was sent to an animal shelter to be cared for. People who use animals this way are most cruel, and should be punished to the extent of the law.

Mrs. Mary Read from Belfast is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dwight Grover and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pfeitz from Framingham, Mass., visited at the home of her parents, over the holiday.

Several from here went to Mexico Sunday afternoon to attend the association meeting.

Mrs. Nellie Hatstat was hostess to a housewares party at her home in Albany Wednesday evening.

Carl McKee called on his aunt, Mrs. Agnes Files, Saturday. He and his wife are staying at the home of their son, Fred. They lost their home by fire a few weeks ago at South Paris.

Mrs. Bonnie Wentworth and family are staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vail.

Mrs. Helen Grover went to North Windham Tuesday to attend the funeral of Clyde Main. She also joined Gladys Knight and went to the retired teachers meeting in Buckfield, Saturday.

Mahlon Rogers and helper have been doing some work for Gladys Kilgore.

ANNIVERSARY OF A COINCIDENCE

July 3 of this year was the 100th anniversary of Calvin COOLIDGE's birth in Plymouth Notch, VERMONT. That bit of information can be found in most any reference book.

Today marks another anniversary concerning COOLIDGE and VERMONT which will probably never find its way into the history books. Thirty years ago on this date (Oct. 29, 1942), it was a sunny forenoon, the S. S. President COOLIDGE operating as a troop ship in the South Pacific sank as it approached Espiritu Santo in the New Hebrides. The troops on board during the last voyage of this luxury-liner-turned-troopship were members of the 172nd Infantry Combat Team. The 172nd Infantry was a National Guard regiment from VERMONT.

STANDARD TIME CHANGE MEANS CHANGE IN MOTORING HABITS

AAA-Maine Automobile Association today reminded area motorists to be extra alert in their driving habits following the arrival of Eastern Standard Time at 2 a. m., Sunday, Oct. 29.

"It takes a number of days before drivers again become acclimated to the early darkness that accompanies the time change," said James A. Christensen, Safety Director of the club. "During this period, a few simple precautions will guard their safety as well as the safety of other motorists and pedestrians."

Six guidelines have been issued and AAA suggests that drivers keep these pointers in mind during the first days of the changeover.

1. Reduce driving speed and increase the following distance between your car and the car ahead.

2. Be especially aware of pedestrians. Those wearing dark clothing are particularly difficult to see in artificial light.

3. Looking directly into glaring headlights is dangerous; instead,

TELSTAR RUNNERS LEAD RUMFORD, 22-36

Run during the second half of the Telstar-Lisbon football game, Saturday's Telstar-Rumford cross-country meet was taken by the Rebel squad 22-36 with freshman Barry Bodwell taking first place for Telstar. He circled the 2.9 mile route in 15.21.

the motorist's center vision should be focused on the right edge of the traffic lane and oncoming lights kept in his side vision.

4. Cars should be in excellent condition. This means clean headlights and windshield for maximum visibility; and taillights, turn signals and high and low beams in top working order.

5. If a motorist's eyes have been under strain during the day he should try to relax them before starting home, because driving in darkness will fatigue them still more.

6. Because the eyes of older drivers take longer to recover from glare, these drivers should adjust their speeds and following distances accordingly.

BROWNIE TROOP 633

We opened our meeting with the flag ceremony. Then we made Halloween masks out of paper bags and paper plates. These will be used for our party next meeting.
